

Jouko Väänänen – University of Helsinki

Title: What is a structure?

Abstract: I discuss the questions what does a structure mean in mathematics, what kind of structures there are, and how do we cope with the unsurmountable looking problem of recognising structures which are infinite or so big that if they were to be built, they would fill the entire universe.