

The Drawing is a Set of Thoughts: On Reading Mathematical Constructions as Works of art

Juliette Kennedy – University of Helsinki and Helsinki Institute of Advanced Studies

ABSTRACT: We consider the proposal of the title from the point of view of the work of various artists. A number of dichotomies emerge: materiality and embodiment; interior and exterior; language and language freeness. We also touch on a few mathematical examples.